has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Human Resource Management: HR for People Managers

In this Specialization, learners developed essential human resources skills to become more effective people managers, including elements of recruiting and hiring employees, motivating and retaining employees, managing employee performance, and compensating and rewarding employees. The specialization presents applied knowledge that is grounded in academic research, which is especially valuable because managing people involves complex responsibilities. Learners completed a Capstone Project at the end of the Specialization to apply their new knowledge and skills.
